

JOYTI KAUR

Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy

The scope and purpose of this policy statement

Joyti Kaur Art acknowledges the duty of care to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and is committed to ensuring safeguarding practice reflects statutory responsibilities, government guidance and complies with best practice. The Policy is informed by Working Together to Safeguard Children

Joyti Kaur Art provides face-to-face art teaching to children and adults. These lessons can be in the form of weekly classes, less frequent workshops, summer camp, summer camp days, less frequent arty parties or regular 1-1 tuition and will be referred to collectively as 'services'. This specific safeguarding and child/young person protection policy is for parents/carers to see how Joyti Kaur Art keep children safe and is written for children up to 18 years of age and does not apply to adults. Joyti Kaur Art expects parents/carers to support to provide an intrinsically safe space within which the children can enjoy the art sessions.

The purpose of this policy statement is:

- to protect children and young people who receive Joyti Kaur Art services from harm. This includes the children of adults who use our services
- to share the overarching principles that guide Joyti Kaur Art approach to child protection. This policy applies to anyone at Joyti Kaur Art, volunteers, sessional workers, agency staff and students, relatives of children who attend classes.

Legal framework

This policy has been drawn up on the basis of legislation, policy and guidance that seeks to protect children in England. A summary of the key legislation and guidance is available from nspcc.org.uk/childprotection. The policy was developed with reference to NSPCC guidelines, who see child welfare as paramount, as enshrined in The Children Act 1989.

Atmosphere at Art Sessions

- Joyti Kaur Art aims to deliver stimulating art sessions for children. These sessions require a reasonable degree of calm and an atmosphere within which the majority can concentrate within a group session. Joyti Kaur Art aims to retain this atmosphere for the safety and comfort of all attendees equally and will raise any concerns initially with the child, and if problems persist, with parents or carers. Joyti Kaur Art reserves the right to refuse a place to a child based on disruptive or disrespectful behaviour, disengagement or behaviour that threatens this calm and therefore could threaten the safety and wellbeing of the other attendees. Please see supporting Document regarding Anti Bullying and Behaviour Policy.
- Children will be working in the Joyti Kaur Art studio, organised venue; a single open-plan shared space. Parents/carers can expect no child to be isolated in the normal course of events.
- Joyti Kaur Art takes a hands-off approach to teaching, unless in the case of a true emergency, where the life of a child is threatened. Very occasionally, if a child has paint or clay on their face and cannot see it in the mirror, Joyti Kaur Art will help to remove this if it is causing the child distress. This cleaning will take place in the main studio space, visible to the other children in attendance.
- Children are supported on an individual basis and this one to one discussion will be held in the club at a table shared by other children.
- Joyti Kaur Art is responsible for the safety of all the children in the session, and any concerns should be reported to them. For many of these occasions, it's hoped that they can be resolved between the parent and the Teacher.

Parent/Carer Agreement with Joyti Kaur Art

- Children are required to be left in the art studio for the duration of the session.
- No child can attend the session without the parent/carers having completed the booking form, detailing any medical or care needs, emergency contact information and accepting Terms and Condition

Policy, Anti Bullying and Behaviour Policy and having accepted this Safeguarding Policy.

- Children must be collected without delay (an additional fee may apply should there be a delay) and not earlier than the stated end time unless we have been made aware via email prior to the session. Children must be collected by their parent/carer, unless prior written arrangement is given for someone else to collect the child. If these arrangements are sprung on Joyti Kaur Art without prior arrangement, and the child gives any cause for concern, we will expect the parent to answer the nominated phone number that we have on record. In the event that the parent/carer is very late collecting the child, Joyti Kaur Art may unavoidably end up being alone with the child, if everyone else has been collected promptly. In this event, Joyti Kaur Art will defer to the Lone Working Policy.

Parents are permitted to stay for sessions and have their own space, children are the active member for sessions to create art and learn. For reasons of unknown DBS check status and for the safety of other children, parents are not able to be alone with another child in the group
